TTC imports an Australian executive

The TTC has hired a new chief operating officer from Australia to make the trains and buses run on time.

Andy Byford, the chief operating officer of RailCorp in Sydney will arrive in November. He will also wear the title of deputy general manger, making him second-in-command to TTC chief general manager Gary Webster.

The hiring marks the second time this year that the TTC has looked abroad for executive material.

New TTC customer service director Chris Upfold came from the London Underground where Byford worked as general manager before moving to Sydney in 2009.

A news release by the government-owned RailCorp, which runs regional commuter rail in New South Wales, says Byford is moving to Toronto for personal reasons. His wife is Canadian and he has a sister in Toronto.

The hiring comes after an international search and internal reorganization following the sudden retirement earlier this year of TTC general manager of operations Rick Cornacchia.

It also comes in the wake of an attempt by Mayor Rob Ford to oust Webster from the top job at the TTC.

The transit system is facing a severe budget challenge. It is projecting an $85 million operating shortfall next year and a $1.5 billion capital funding gap over the coming decade.

David Miller feels the love

► Former mayor receives a warm welcome but vows to stay out of politics in interview with CBC

Feeling a lot of love in the room, David Miller climbs the stage and quips of the previous panelists: "I was very glad that nobody spoke about giant Ferris wheels."

It's the kind of sly aside, rather than frontal attack, Miller is fond of making about the administration and aims of Toronto Mayor Rob Ford, elected last fall when Miller retired from politics after seven years in office.

Now a Toronto lawyer and part-time New York professor who preaches the economic and social benefits of environmentalism, Miller was interviewed on stage Thursday by CBC journalist Amanda Lang as part of a green cities forum hosted by Siemens Canada.

One subject on which he will directly attack Ford is his scrapping of Transit City, the light-rail network being replaced with a buried Eglinton line and an as-yet-unfunded Sheppard subway. Miller noted his network would have been built by 2020.

"They could literally turn on Transit City right now and you get the jobs," and start to alleviate productivity-sapping gridlock.

Miller said he's enjoying private life, having time to go to his 14-year-old son's hockey games, and will not seek the NDP leadership "because I don't want to."

Asked if he is frustrated watching city hall from the outside, Miller noted he still speaks up on issues, but understands his changed role.

"It's a bit like an athlete who retires — if your team goes downhill after you've left, you're gone, you have to move on."

Toronto 9th in green city study

► Waste management, recycling efforts lauded ► But at 40 minutes, the city has longest average commute

Vancouver has cleanly beaten Toronto as the "greenest" city in Canada and the second overall in North America, coming in just behind San Francisco in a new study of 27 major North American metropolises.

Toronto ranks ninth in the U.S. and Canada Green City Index, ahead of Ottawa (12th), Calgary (14th) and Montreal (19th).

In Toronto "due to heavy congestion and sprawl, residents need on average 40 minutes to drive to work, compared with the index average of 29 minutes," notes the report, commissioned by the electronics and electrical engineering company Siemens and conducted by the Economist Intelligence Unit. The 27 cities in the index are rated for their overall environmental performance as well as separately in categories.

Despite an average per-capita gross domestic product $7,000 lower than the average of U.S. cities in the study, Canadian cities rank nine to 10 places higher than expected, the report states.

Torontonians can be very "proud" of their waste and recycling efforts, said Roland Aurich, president and CEO of Siemens Canada. But the

- The 11-month study, completed in June, assessed environmental performance with criteria including emissions, energy, land use, buildings, transport, water, waste, air quality and more.
- Toronto's best category performance is in waste management (4th)
- This result is driven by a 44 per cent recycling rate that is solidly above the average of 26 per cent, according to the index.

Artist gives TIFF a thoughtful gift

Thierry Guetta, better known as artist Mr. Brainwash, was the subject of the Oscar nominated documentary Exit Through the Gift Shop. In honour of that he created a similar piece of art in Los Angeles, except Star Wars storm troopers were behind the cameras instead of Mounties. The Toronto International Film Festival commissioned Guetta to install seven eight-foot-tall spray cans festooned with the artist's unique take on Hollywood along the red carpet at Roy Thomson Hall.

Movie-style disease spread could happen: Doctor

An infectious disease specialist from St. Michael's Hospital offers a subtle plot twist on the movie Contagion, which is about a lethal virus that spreads quickly around the globe and kills within days.

Say the character played by Gwyneth Paltrow, who unknowingly carries the deadly microbe, has a stopover at Pearson International on her way home from a China business trip.

While here, she coughs and sneezes, spraying fellow travellers with airborne droplets containing the bug.

Toronto suddenly becomes a hot spot for the international spread of a lethal pandemic.

It's not such a far-fetched scenario, says Dr. Kamran Khan, explaining it is not unlike how SARS took hold in Toronto in 2003.

"Cities like Toronto would inevitably be infected. We are one of the worlds most highly interconnected cities," he says.

Khan is one of two Canadian researchers at the forefront of preparing for future global infectious disease outbreaks, like the one depicted in Contagion. He and Montreal-born Dr. John Brownstein, an assistant professor at Harvard Medical School, are coupling their scientific research with new technology to track and predict the spread of infectious diseases. Khan studies the flight paths of billions of international travellers to anticipate how infectious diseases will spread on his website biodiaspora.ca.

He and a team of researchers created a map showing how an outbreak in Hong Kong would spread worldwide.

Project aims to create change with art

► ONE DROP program using short films and artistic workshops to create water awareness in India

PHOEBE HO
TORONTO@METRONEWS.CA

Guy Laliberté hopes his ONE DROP program will initiate change in India through the use of arts and popular culture.

In a joint venture with RBC, ONE DROP's Project India aims to improve the living conditions in Orissa — one of India's poorest states, through educating and creating awareness about water.

"ONE DROP will address some of the socio-cultural factors in the use and treatment of water with an arts and education program intended to create lasting behavioural changes with residents in the community at large," said RBC president and chief executive officer Gordon Nixon, as he pledged a $1.1 million grant from RBC to fund the arts and education component of Project India on Wednesday in Toronto.

Created by Guy Laliberté, founder of Cirque du Soleil, ONE DROP fights poverty by improving access to clean water and educating about the im-as a global community, we will be in trouble probably within the next three to five years," said Laliberté.

Project India will be working with local organizations to carry out the initiative, which is estimated to benefit 100 villages and over 55,000 people in the community.

Laliberté says both the technical and educational components are essential to the success of this project and that water is the key to a multitude of issues.

"When you look at every aspect related to humanitarian causes in the world: Education, health, biodiversity, environment and pollution, water is always at the centre of those problems," he said. "So if you resolve the situation of water, you probably will have a lot of resolution in a physical sense."

Night race to light up Toronto

The Energizer Night Race is coming to Toronto this Saturday, beginning at sunset.

About 1,500 runners are expected to light up the night sky with LED head-lights.

Now in Canada, the highly popular race has taken place around the world for six years.

Managed in association with The Running Room, the race will raise funds for the Sunnybrook Foundation. On course entertainment includes stilt walkers, jugglers and hoop perform-

The words that arose from the Twin Towers' fall

The attacks of Sept. 11, 2001 had a profound impact on nearly every facet of society, including the English language.

University of Toronto associate professor of linguistics Rena Helms-Park outlines the ways in which 9-11 shaped the way we speak.

Ground Zero: The term was originally used to describe the site of the Hiroshima bombing of 1945. Now the phrase has just one definition — the site of the former twin towers.

Guantanamo Bay: Before the U.S.-led crackdown on terrorist activity, Guantanamo Bay was nothing more than a locale near Cuba, Helms-Park said. Once the American prison began housing suspected terrorists, however, the meaning changed. Now it's become a symbol of one wrong being used to right another wrong," she said.

9-11: They use to be three numbers North Americans could dial in case of an emergency. They then became shorthand for the event itself and all that resulted from it.

No-fly list: Prior to 9-11, there was little need for a list of people who were not permitted to travel by air. Helms-Park said the term is likely here to stay. Axis of Evil: The term, coined by former U.S. president George W. Bush to describe Iran, Iraq and North Korea, was invented to more clearly define the "war on terror."

PAUL SULLIVAN
METRO

Today, 10 years after, we still live in a 9-11 world.

It's a world of diminished expectations, a world darkened by fear and shadows.

But it's also a world with a few surprises up its sleeve.

The mastermind of 9-11, Osama bin Laden, is dead. You could argue that the War on Terror is over.

And Muslim nations, one after the other, have turned their backs on Osama's bogus jihad, opting instead for freedom and rebirth: The Arab Spring.

We, er, won.

But the cost has been almost too much to bear. America, not long ago the self-declared greatest nation in the world, is a spent force.

The War on Terror has drained the treasury, and no one's cheering for the man who tracked down bin Laden and ended the ruinous detour into Iraq. Barack Obama is down so low that everything looks like up to him.

It will take a long time for the shadows of 9-11 to dissipate.

Since that day, Canada has spent an extra $92 billion on security, too much of it frisking little old ladies and small children in airports. But do we feel any safer? Despite all the tedious precautions, one terrorist almost managed to blow up a plane, failing only because he was too clumsy to set his shoe on fire. With guys like that on the loose, it would be foolish to let down our guard. Is that a nail file in your purse, lady?

One of the darkest shadows of 9-11 is the spin. Otherwise enlightened people think it was our own fault, that Osama bin Laden was the instrument of our chastisement. Because we depend on Mideast oil. Because we support Israel. Because of our attitude.

Then there are those who seriously believe that 9-11 was an inside job, and proclaim it on lamp posts and the walls of buildings.

That the Pentagon attacked the Pentagon to manipulate public opinion into approving another war.

Weapons of mass delusion.

Still, 10 years after, Osama bin Laden is gone, there are fledgling "democracies" in Iraq and Afghanistan, and just try to smuggle a bomb onto an airplane in your under-shorts.

Somehow, we endure. We've learned that resilience and determination aren't pretty, but they work. And on our good days, we can look forward to a time when the light fills all the dark corners, where freedom and prosperity are the antidotes to danger and despair.

That's our mission. And it is not accomplished. Not even close.

METRO CANADA IN HALIFAX

There's one flight New Yorker John Balistreri will never forget.

He was on his way home on Singapore Airlines on Sept. 11, 2001, when all commercial air traffic was temporarily suspended.

Eight thousand lost, confused and in-shock airline passengers descended into Halifax and were met with loving, open arms.

"The emotions ranged from genuine shock at what was going on in NYC to genuine appreciation and warmth for the people I met in Lower Sackville while I was 'stuck' in Canada," said Balistreri in an email interview.

He and about 280 other passengers on his flight were taken to Millwood High School in Lower Sackville. Other stranded passengers were sent to three other Halifax-area high schools or billeted in private homes.

"We had so many people from the area that volunteered that there were times we had to take names and say 'We'll call you,'" said former Millwood principal Phil Legere.

For the locals, it was something they could do to show support and help out during the crisis.

"When it was put in front of you, here's something you can do, I think everybody wanted to be part of it," Legere said.

Students, who had the week off, came in to take small children staying at the temporary shelter out to the park. Volunteers picked up passengers at the school to take them shopping for clothes.

"It wasn't just the generosity of the town, with their hospitality and volunteering. It was their genuine care and friendship for complete strangers that took me by surprise," said Balistreri.

"As a typical jaded New Yorker, to be able to have spent these torturous days right after the attack with such amazing, caring people did wonders for the way I was able to process what was going on while being so far from home."

Reader's comments

Metro asked readers what we have learned from 9-11. Here's what they had to say:

Sandra Nelson

Obama proposes $447B jobs plan

Barack Obama, looking to jolt both the U.S. economy and his presidency, proposed a $447-billion US plan for creating jobs in a high-profile, nationally televised speech before Congress late Thursday. The newest and boldest element of Obama's plan would slash the payroll tax for the Social Security pension program both for tens of millions of workers and for employers, too. It also includes $105 billion US in public works projects and the renewal of $50 billion US in unemployment benefits for about six million Americans at risk of losing jobless insurance.

Obama promised to pay for his plan without sinking the United States deeper in debt.

An analysis of two-million-year-old bones found in South Africa offers the most powerful case so far in identifying the transitional figure that came before modern humans — findings some are calling a potential game-changer in understanding evolution.

The bones are from Australopithecus sediba. The research places that pre-human branch of the evolutionary tree as the best candidate to be the ancestor of the human line, said Lee R. Berger of the University of Witwatersrand in South Africa.

The bones, found in 2008 in the fossil-rich cave region of Malapa near Johannesburg, show a head-to-foot combination of features of Australopithecus and the human genus, Homo. Sci-

Jack the Ripper unmasked at last?

Since 2002, retired British police officer Trevor Marriott has been researching the most famous cold case of all — the identity of Jack the Ripper.

Jack was a mystery serial killer who preyed on prostitutes in impoverished Whitechapel, London, in the 1880s.

And now Marriott has come up with the name of the man he believes is the most likely candidate — a German merchant sailor named Carl Feigenbaum.

What's more, he has put together a composite sketch of the suspect from a description of him that was in documents when he was jailed in 1894 at Sing Sing — and later executed — after he was found guilty of murdering a woman in New York.

Marriott found that the ship Feigenbaum was believed to be on was in Whitechapel during each of the Ripper murders, except for one.

But on that date another merchant boat from the same company was docked in Whitechapel. Feigenbaum could have switched ships.

And once Feigenbaum was executed in 1896, there were no more Jack the Ripper killings.

For Marriott, that is perhaps the clincher.

Palestinians launch PR blitz

- ▶ They'll ask UN to accept them as a member state
- ▶ Israel fears violence ▶ Says it 'won't lead to peace'

The Palestinians launched a campaign Thursday to rally support for United Nations recognition as an independent state.

They plan demonstrations in the Palestinian territories and worldwide.

And later this month, they will ask the world body to accept them as a full member state.

The public relations blitz helps set up a diplomatic showdown at the UN, where Israel and the U.S. are leading opposition to the bid — and adds to concerns in Israel of violence.

The U.S. administration said for the first time Thursday it would veto any Security Council resolution to recognize Palestinian statehood.

With peace talks deadlocked for nearly three years, the Palestinians plan to ask the United Nations to recognize their independence in the West Bank, Gaza Strip and east Jerusalem — areas captured by Israel in the 1967 Mideast war.

Although the vote will not change the situation on the ground, the Palestinians believe a strong international endorsement will isolate Israel and boost their position in future negotiations.

At Thursday's ceremony, some 100 Palestinian officials and activists gathered at the UN offices in Ramallah for a short ceremony, where they spelled out their plans in an informal letter addressed to UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon.

Israelis fight back 'against all odds'

Although the Palestinians say their PR campaign will be peaceful, Israeli officials warn mass West Bank demonstrations could turn violent.

Ron Prosor, Israel's ambassador to the United Nations, said Thursday he is lobbying his counterparts to oppose the Palestinian bid.

"This is a diplomatic endeavour against all odds.

"I am trying, literally down to the last moment, to persuade the ambassadors of UN member countries that this unilateral course of action by the Palestinians won't lead to peace and won't lead to the establishment of a Palestinian state, but only to violence and bloodshed," he told the Maariv daily.

Citizenship not for sale: Kenney

► Immigration minister cracking down on citizen fraud cases ► Tip line set up for reporting suspects

DAVID COOPER/TORONTO STAR

The federal government has set up a new tip line where people can report suspected cases of citizenship fraud.

Immigration Minister Jason Kenney is declaring that "Canadian citizenship is not for sale" and he's encouraging people to use the tip line to report suspected cases of citizenship fraud.

Kenney says his department will investigate the reports and take action when necessary.

Cases of false representation, fraud or other illegal activities surrounding the citizenship process can be reported to the tip line at 1-888-242-2100, between

All other types of fraud tips related to immigration should be reported to the Canada Border Services Agency's Border Watch Tip Line at 1-888-502-9060. The organization enforces the provisions of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act.

Overseas cases can be reported to the nearest Canadian visa office or by email at citizenship-fraud-tips@cic.gc.ca.

To date, immigration officials have identified about 2,000 people from over 100 countries who may have obtained Canadian citizenship fraudulently and they are taking steps to revoke the citizenship of the guilty.

African diagnosis a first

► Girl is first known black female with aging disease

The elfin child with the big personality and bright smile calls herself "the first lady" and dreams of the future.

But doctors say 12-year-old Ontlametse Phalatse, of South Africa, likely has only another couple of years to live.

Ontlametse is the first black child diagnosed with progeria, a rare and fatal genetic condition that accelerates the aging process, the Progeria Research Foundation said.

Nobody knows how many kids in the world have it. In a two-year campaign to identify them, the Progeria Research Foundation says the number of children diagnosed around the world has soared from 48 to 80 on five continents.

The foundation's executive director, Audrey Gordon, says only two Africans have been diagnosed and both live in South Africa — Ontlametse and a five-year-old caucasian girl. That is probably because South Africa, an economic powerhouse, offers some of the best medical care on the continent.

Tariffs blamed for price gap

► But Flaherty stops short of saying levies would be removed or reduced ► Disparity is 20%, survey finds

Finance Minister Jim Flaherty concedes that government policies regarding tariffs on imports may be one of the reasons consumer goods cost less in the United States than in Canada.

A day after calling for the Senate finance committee to investigate the price gap, which one survey puts at 20 per cent on average, the minister said Thursday that high tariffs may be a problem.

Tariffs on most goods between Canada, the United States and Mexico were phased out under trade deals signed in the late 1980s and early 1990s.

However, there are still duties paid on some goods not covered as well as a range of clothing, consumer electronics and other products that come to Canada from Asia, Europe and other countries.

The Retail Council of Canada said tariffs are a major factor and that Flaherty already knows that. Spokeswoman Anne Kothawala said tariffs can account for as much as 18 per cent on some items.

"Lots of sporting equipment, hockey skates, running shoes, track suits, pillows, cotton clothing and other items carry an 18 per cent tariff on them," she said.

She added that Canadian retailers are also disadvantaged by the small size of the domestic market, spread out over a vast area, and that some global suppliers give discounts to U.S. merchants but not their counterparts in Canada.

Google gobbles up Zagat

► Online giant plans to integrate restaurant-review service with search and mapping products ► Aim is to sell more ads to local merchants

Google has bought the restaurant-review service Zagat as it tries to help people connect with local businesses.

The founders, Nina and Tim Zagat, said they will remain a part of the 32-year-old company and will use Google's resources and expertise to expand.

Zagat currently offers reviews and ratings on restaurants in more than 100 cities around the world, based largely on surveys of diners. Google said Zagat "will be a cornerstone of our local offering." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rogers pulls out of race for Games rights

Rogers Communications won't be bidding for the Canadian broadcast rights to the 2014 and 2016 Olympic Games with CTV, its partner in previous coverage of one of the world's most-watched sporting events.

The president of Rogers' media division, Keith Pelley, announced Thursday that "scheduling conflicts, combined with our financial priorities, suggest that it's best for us not to be involved at this time."

The original agreement for the Olympics had Rogers as a 20 per cent stakeholder in the consortium, with CTV holding the other 80 per cent interest. However, the structure of CTV's ownership changed this year when the broadcaster shifted back into the hands of Bell Media, part of BCE Inc.

That meant Rogers Communications Inc. would have been partnering with its main competitor in telecommunications and sports media.

French tax takes fizz out of Coke

Coca-Cola said Thursday it has suspended plans for a $24 million US investment in France to protest a tax on sugary sodas that's part of government efforts aimed at shrinking the country's huge debts.

The government says the tax aims to reduce obesity, which places a large cost on health care.

TIFF, TUFF AND EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN

THE METRO LIST

MIKE BENHAIM
METRO

1 TV a la carte: The quintessential viewer's lament is that we have all this variety, yet there never seems to be anything on.

Well, rumour has it that you will soon be able to pick and choose your stations without subscribing to the full cable package. Just imagine all those single men with 50 channels of sports and porn.

2 Ice, ice, baby: It's almost hockey season again in Canada, and no one is more excited than the city of Winnipeg. The new and improved Jets unveiled their new uniforms this week. Now let's see if they can actually play.

3 Dancing with the boys: Sonny and Cher's child, Chastity, underwent a female-to-male sex-change operation a year ago. Now, Chaz's inclusion on Dancing With the Stars has sparked controversy among religious groups who claim he's an "abomination."

Shame on them for judging a man just for being born with a vagina. We will accept Chaz like anyone else and simply focus on the fact that he is overweight and unattractive.

4 Two and a Half Men: The new season will begin with the funeral of Charlie Sheen's character while the real Charlie lives on. The cruel irony is too much for me to bear.

5 X Factor: The most anticipated new show is unoriginal, but apparently American audiences crave more disdainful commentary from curmudgeon-extraordinaire Simon Cowell and more inane bickering with Paula Abdul. Contestants will be ridiculed at every turn. Just the kind of thing our highly evolved TV audiences enjoy.

6 Fall "Mad"ness: Capitalizing on the success of Mad Men, two new series' emerge this season. Pan Am and The Playboy Club are both set in the '60s, feature hot ladies in pantyhose and men in suits with shiny hair. So much nostalgia for an era when sexually repressed people drank and smoked unabashedly around toddlers, then packed them into the car for a swirly, fun-filled ride to their asbestos-insulated, lead-filled homes. Ah, those were the days.

7 TIFF: It's TIFF time again, and Toronto will host the world's hottest stars. While the festival is always a great draw, the true beauty of the experience is the gamble, so don't get caught up in Hollywood hype.

Take a chance on the unknowns, because it's cooler and more exclusive to say, "I just watched a three-hour movie in Swahili, and have no idea what I saw."

8 TUFF enuff: The fifth annual Toronto Urban Film Festival is a delightful bonus for commuters. This week, subway screens throughout the city are displaying a variety of submissions. The silent, one-minute films can be a welcome distraction from the fact that you may be among strangers who have chosen not to bathe. You have to be in T.O. to enjoy that experience, but if you can't make it, visit torontourbanfilmfestival.com

RE: Editorial cartoon
published Sept. 8

In light of the deaths this summer of three hockey players and the crash of the plane in Russia on Thursday, I found it sickening that your newspaper would publish this cartoon. It is disgusting and insensitive and should never have seen the light of day. I can only hope that it was meant to promote concussion awareness, but, come on, take another look. Too bad, I really enjoyed this paper up till now.

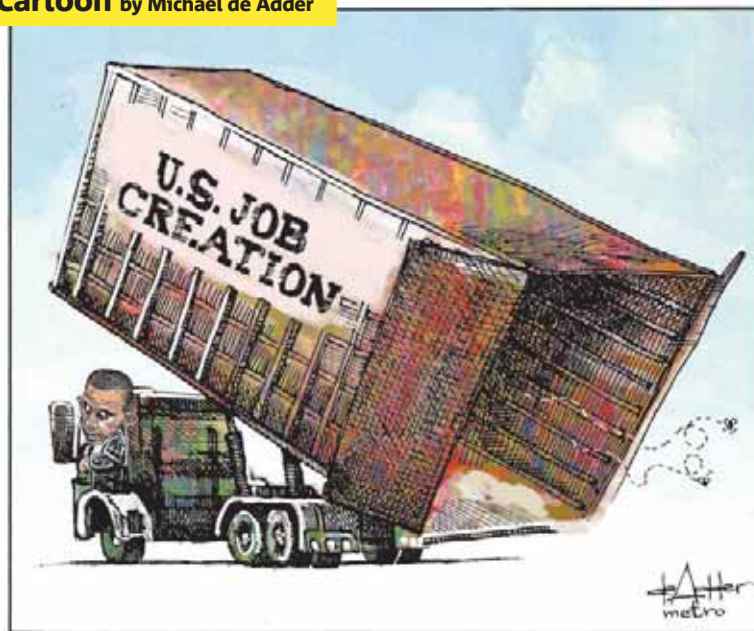

JOHN COLLINGS, LONDON

I am a regular reader, and I'm not usually one to complain about anything, but I just had to write in and say that I found the comic on September 8th to be in extremely bad taste.

Your cover story is about 43 people being killed in a plane crash, many of them professional hockey players with families, and then think it is appropriate to run a comic poking fun at dead hockey players? This would be bad form at any time, but in light of what JUST happened I find it absolutely disgusting.

Somebody had too many fermented apples, again

A seemingly intoxicated moose has been discovered entangled in an apple tree by a stunned Swede.

Per Johansson says he heard a roar from his vacationing neighbour's garden in southwestern Sweden late Tuesday and went to have a look. There, he found a female moose kicking about in the tree. The animal was likely drunk from eating fermented apples.

With the help of police and rescue

services, the 45-year-old Johansson later managed to set the moose free in part by sawing off tree branches.

But the animal appeared confused and wandered into Johansson's garden, where she was still resting Thursday.

Johansson said the moose appeared to be sick, drunk or "half-stupid." THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New jobs and green, renewable energy: London is where it's happening

Samsung C&T and its partners are putting real, immediate investment behind Ontario's clean energy goals. That means exciting news for London. Soon, a manufacturing plant will be making state-of-the-art solar modules, right here in our community. This invigorates our local economy by creating hundreds of direct manufacturing jobs. London is at the heart of this latest step by Samsung C&T and its partners to establish, in Ontario, the largest wind and solar power cluster in the world.

For more exciting details about clean energy projects that Samsung C&T and its partners are working on, visit samsungrenewableenergy.ca.

Clean energy for generations to come.

Synopsis

The story begins with patient zero, Beth Emhoff (Gwyneth Paltrow), an executive who carries a disease from Hong Kong to Minneapolis. Twenty-four hours later she is dead and a modern day plague has begun. Add in a meddlesome blogger (Jude Law), medical emergency personnel (Marion Cotillard, Laurence Fishburne and Kate Winslet) and widespread panic and you have SARS, Soderbergh style.

Ratings:

Mark: ●●●½

► Jude Law, center, is just one of the big names in the star-studded cast of Contagion.

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE & MARK BRESLIN

SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

The cold and clinical

► Contagion — a story about a modern-day plague — arrives just in time for flu season ► Crouse and Breslin concur; it's an entertaining medical procedural Richard: Mark, Contagion is The Towering Inferno with germs, an all-star disaster movie in the mode of Irwin Allen's 1970s spectacles. It's a generally more serious affair than the Allen cheesefest but they both beat with the same pulpy heart. Each movie takes itself a bit too seriously — although the scene that gives new meaning to the phrase, "picking Gwyneth Paltrow's brain," seems geared for gruesome laughs — and has too many characters and tries, with varying levels of success, to pluck at your heartstrings.

MB: Well, Paltrow has always had a cerebral approach to acting, and this movie proves it. And the "cerebral" approach extends to the rest of the movie. Unlike you, Richard, I found it a bit aloof and clinical, which fit the topic. After all the science fiction movies about bad viruses, this one is closer to actual science. And the movie arrives just in time for flu season. I had to suppress a cough at the theatre, lest I get roughed up.

RC: I get what you mean by the aloof and clinical remark to a point. The Lawrence Fishburne story is an effective medical procedural. It's a bit clinical at times, like an episode of CSI set entirely inside the lab, but large parts of the story seemed unnecessary.

A plot line featuring Marion Cotillard in China, for instance, could easily have been removed with no noticeable (except for the absence of the lovely Ms. Cotillard) effect and the blogger story feels forced.

MB: Usually movies of this type focus on one family and we see the crisis (zombies, war, Contagion) through their eyes. Soderbergh is working differently here, as if conducting a survey of how this pandemic might affect different types of people in various social groups. Only the Matt Damon thread seemed to have any real emotion; but even his story is underplayed. As far as the Jude Law blogger, I wouldn't want to have missed his homemade Hazmat suit, which made him look like the cyborg he played in A.I. But it was fun to watch so many major actors in the small roles, especially Elliott Gould; and Demetri Martin, who barely had one line!

RC: I did enjoy the movie; I just thought it was a bit sloppy for a Soderbergh film. Having said that, however, it should do for touching your face what Jaws did for ocean side vacations.

MB: Ha! And not many people will crave Chinese food after the film. But I liked the movie, too, even if it sometimes felt like a grad thesis in epidemiology.

In an age where irony, self referencing and cruelty dominate the horror film, Creature is a refreshing throwback. A gothic, old-fashioned yet gory bit of trashy monster mayhem, the pic stars genre standby Sid Haig as a bayou-dwelling creep with a weird connection to a swamp demon called Lockjaw, a beastie that takes great pleasure in devouring the young, dumb kids who cross his toothy path. Part Creature From the Black Lagoon and part Friday the 13th, the fact this fun little flick is getting a wide theatrical release at all is cause for celebration.

Being billed as this year's The Fighter, the mixed martial-arts drama Warrior pits two estranged brothers against each other as they each surge through the ranks of a multi-million dollar fighting championship. Though that sounds like an attempt at selling cinematic brutality to jackedup MMA fans, director Gavin O'Connor (Miracle) spins an emotionally-intense story that delves into family dysfunction and forgiveness despite its predictable arc and bloated running time.

The crying game

► Movie fans, pull out your hankies. Here are five films that are guaranteed to open the floodgates — every time

E.T. (1982)

You've seen it a million times and you know what's going to happen. E.T. is going to live, and the little guy is going to phone home, and his spaceship is going to swoop down to pick him up. Doesn't matter. Those blue eyes of his, and the friendship between E.T. and Elliott never fail to draw out the tears.

Nights of Cabiria (1957)

That famous last shot gets you every time. Fellini's wife, Giulietta Masina, is irresistible as Cabiria, the proverbial hooker with a heart of gold. She finally thinks she's found "the one," only to find he's not. Heartbroken, she smiles through tears as if to let us know she'll be all right.

Lassie Come Home (1943)

Lassie Come Home is heartbreaking no matter who you are. Featuring a young Roddy McDowell and Elizabeth Taylor, it tells the story of a destitute family forced to sell its beloved dog. But Lassie breaks free from her new owners and treks hundreds of miles through various dangers to return home.

My Dog Skip (2000)

Any film with a dog is guaranteed to tug heart strings. My Dog Skip also has that irresistible boy-and-his-dog dynamic, which exponentially ups the cute factor. A young Frankie Muniz stars as a shy kid named Willie whose only real friend, a scruffy and lovable Jack Russell terrier, helps him open up to the world.

Up (2009)

The whole film is lovely, of course. But it's that one poignant montage that makes the tears come in torrents. It reveals the decades-long relationship between curmudgeonly, 78-year-old Carl Fredricksen and the love of his life, his late wife, Ellie, who brought out the fun he never knew he had inside of him. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

GOOD PLANNING KEY TO MANAGING MONEY

BUDGETS ARE VALUABLE

If you're a post-secondary student with a full course-load, you may feel like your real home is the classroom. But of course that's not true. You have a home, or maybe an apartment. And it's all yours — or maybe just one-fifth of it, because you've got four roommates. For students in college and university, living arrangements can be crazy like this. Don't let your household budgeting be crazy too.

"Whether you're renting, leasing, or even buying a living space, good planning remains the key to managing your money well," says Kavita Joshi, Director of Student Markets, RBC. "Don't let big purchases or potentially long-term expenses like rent intimidate you. If you prepare a budget, and stick to it, you'll have a lot of control over the situation."

Budgets are valuable because they present a record of how and when you spend; without one, you can have only an intuitive sense of your own spending habits. Think about it: when you go grocery shopping, do you pick up an extra few things for the whole house? Do you do that often? Without a budget set aside for food, and a record of how much you bought for yourself versus others, you'll end up being owed a lot of money you may never see.

Should you need more money (like, to move out of that place), you'll find the situation less stressful if you know your financial options ahead of time. Surprisingly, Joshi recommends turning to the bank last when securing funds to pay for school. "Some people are more comfortable taking on debt than others, and not all financial options are the same anyway," she says. "Consider your savings, income, your family, bursaries, and other possibilities before applying for a bank loan. The bank will want to see a budget, and that takes some work. Then again, if you know how to budget, you may not need a loan at all."

RUNNING OUT OF CASH?

- There are tools and resources available to you, such as RBC's Better Student Life website (about money management) and Student Budget Check (an online budget calculator). Both are available at www.betterstudentlife.ca. Another tool is myFinanceTracker, which is a new online customizable financial management tool that will help keep tabs on your monthly spending. www.rbc.com/myfinancetracker
- Don't be afraid to ask for advice. For instance, RBC makes it easy by offering 20 minute advice events to help students find out how they can take control of their money. (www.rbc.com/studentevents)
- You must manage many new expenses, from tuition to housing. It's important to identify all of them, and assess how much you're actually spending. There are lots of moving parts, and it can seem overwhelming, but you have choices. You are the one in control of your spending, and in many areas you have discretion about whether, when and how much you spend. Explore all of your financial options (work, bursaries, loans, scholarships, and so on), and seek advice from experts like financial counsellors on campus, or your bank.

THE BEST ROCK DOCUMENTARIES EVER MADE

SOUND CHECK

ALAN CROSS
SCENE
@METRONEWS.CA

Is a documentary to start the 36th annual Toronto International Film Festival? And a rock doc?

Makes sense, really, given that the festival and the band involved pretty much share the exact same birthdate. As the first-ever TIFF was kicking off in September 1976, the band that would become U2 were having their first rehearsals at the drummer's house.

And the Davis It Might Get Loud Guggenheim-directed From the Sky Down isn't the only rock 'n' roll documentary at TIFF this year. Pearl Jam

20, a film capturing that band's first two decades — a Cameron Crowe production, no less — will also get a showing before it has a brief one-night run in theatres on the 20th.

And let's not forget Paul Williams is Still Alive, a film about the diminutive songwriter and actor who starred in Phantom of the Paradise and, more impressively, wrote Rainbow Connection for Kermit the Frog.

This got me thinking about putting together a list of the best rock docs of all time. Here's what I came up with.

The Last Waltz (1978):

Martin Scorsese's fascination with rock docs began here. The Band's final concert at the Winterland Theatre in San Francisco set the bar high for years afterward.

The Kids Are Alright (1979):

I was such a Who fan that when this came out, I sat through three straight showings in the theatre.

Rock & Roll: An Unruly History (1995):

A PBS mini-series based on the writings of academic Robert Palmer.

Dig! (2004):

A side-by-side comparison of the Dandy Warhols and the Brian Jonestown massacre, two bands that emerged out of Portland on equal footing but had decidedly different (and tragic) career paths.

New York Doll (2005):

How Arthur "Killer" Kane came to participate in a reunion of the New York Dolls.

Joe Strummer: The Future Is Unwritten (2007):

A brilliant look back at the life of the Clash front-man, warts and all.

And I know that the band wasn't real (at least when they shot the mock-doc in 1984), but every music fan needs to watch This Is Spinal Tap. A scary amount of truth lurks therein.

ACNE

By Dr. C. Hammoud Ph.D.

■ I had terrible Acne for 3 years and tried Benzoyl Peroxide, Proactiv, Aloe Vera and others. After 4 days taking the Bell natural product #60 it started to clear up my skin. My skin changed from terrible to beautiful. Mylena Theriault, 19, Sorel-Tracy, QC ■ In 2 days my son's face completely cleared up of acne. My son is 15 and suffered for 3 years. We used many products like laser, Clean Clear, Neem that did not work or burned his skin. Veronica Marden, Seminole, TX ■ Unbelievable acne free beautiful skin Last couple of years I had acne and tried every product like Murad, Proactiv and antibiotics. Results with #60 were unbelievable. Thanks for giving me beautiful skin and my self-esteem. Nelisa Royer, 28, Doral, FL ■ Within 6 days eczema cleared up completely. I believe #60 addresses the cause internally instead of the symptoms. Latifa Boutshik, 43, North York, ON ■ I had severe psoriasis over 95% of my body. Last 5 years I have stunned every doctor and dermatologist. I spent tons of money on remedies. After I got Bell #60, I've never seen anything work as fast in my life. Within 2 days I saw my skin clearing up. I'm speechless. It was inexpensive compared with what I spent before. Jessica Shantz, 25, Dawson Creek, BC ■ All statements made on the Bell website are sent by delighted users. All are real people. Most have listed phone numbers and can be called for advice. No money is paid to them. Their reward is the relief they are getting. All say #60 works within days not months, not years. It's more effective than what they used before. It is less expensive (some acne suppliers ship monthly and charge monthly, which may amount to large sums yearly). No side effects were reported on #60. All true experiences from real people.

#60

Guaranteed better than all others they used say dozens of delighted users with full names and towns on the Bell website. Works by cleansing blood inside rather than attacking skin from the outside and leaving the actual cause untreated. Here are a few examples:

Jonas striking out on his own

► Former teen idol changes up his sound and returns with a more modern album ► Will he still draw crowds?

IAN GORMELY
SCENE@METRONews.CA

It's tough out there for teen idols. Two years ago, toppling the Jonas Brothers from the top of the teen pop heap seemed unfathomable.

Now they seem like a distant memory when compared to the superstar status of Justin Bieber and Lady Gaga.

Now 22-year-old Joe Jonas is striking out on his own and hitting back these young upstarts with their own game.

Abandoning the pop-rock sound that garnered his band Rolling Stone covers and legions of teenaged fans, Joe's debut, Fast Life, which drops next month, leans heavy on dance floor beats and R&B tropes.

"It's the kind of music that I've always loved," he told journalists during a recent conference call to promote the record and his upcoming club tour that brings him to Toronto Saturday night.

"I've always really been into dance music and electro music, hip hop music. I've always been really intrigued to kind of go on my own path to create something different."

Whatever the results, it's clear that Joe is ready for whatever comes his way. "You just got to have confidence going into it. And I'm feeling pretty excited and pumped to be able to hit the road."

Eat and greet with Zac Brown Band

► Band hints at possible TV-food show opportunities

At most of their concerts, the Zac Brown Band offers fans more than burgers and chicken fingers.

Instead, they have a team of chefs prepare what the group's leader calls "real, Southern gourmet."

Now, Zac Brown may be taking his love for food to television.

"We've talked about it," Brown said about possibly doing a cooking TV show.

"We've filmed a lot of the stuff, a lot of the cooking elements of our stuff to possibly put a show together, and we definitely will do that one day."

The Grammy-winning group offers "eat and greets" at most of their live shows for fan-club members.

MARK HUMPHREY/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

► The Zac Brown Band is looking to blend their music and love of good food.

And Brown says he takes the food aspect of the show as serious as the music.

"This isn't just a chance for somebody to come eat a bag of nachos and some cheese wiz at a concert," he said.

- Author and activist says he's had tons of fan support on Twitter

Chaz Bono isn't thinking about the controversy surrounding his casting on Dancing With the Stars.

He says he's been flooded with fan support and is focused on the cha-cha. Bono is the show's first transgender contestant, and some viewers and conservative media groups have responded to his casting with hateful blog posts and calls for a boycott of the hit ABC show.

Cooper hits daytime TV

► Anderson debuts Monday on CTV and CTV Two ► Journalist to reveal a more personal side of himself ► Audience interaction will be key to show

Anderson Cooper helms a nightly news show on CNN, travels the globe covering breaking stories and handles occasional stints as a correspondent for 60 Minutes. But despite the packed schedule, he says his newest project — the daytime chatfest Anderson — won't wear him down.

"When you're doing something you actually really love then it doesn't really feel like work," Cooper explained earlier this year during a stop in Toronto to introduce media to the show.

"On Anderson there's going to be a studio audience of a couple hundred people and there's a lot of interaction with viewers.... That's really invigorating. That's fun and that kind of adds energy to your day rather than takes away energy."

But it will make for long days, Cooper admitted. The silver-haired newsman expects to bank episodes of Anderson on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings and spend his evenings working on 360.

Cooper said maintaining his CNN gig was a condition of his move into syndicated daytime television.

"The appeal is really about storytelling — about being able to tell stories that don't really fit onto an evening newscast," said Cooper, whose 60 Minutes reports have included lighter celebrity fare on musicians like Lady Gaga.

"At night we focus on politicians, we talk to pundits. During the day I'm focusing on real people and people who are in situations, sometimes not of their making, who are facing challenges and overcoming those challenges. We'll be doing really a full range of topics whether it's social issues one day, a big celebrity interview the next day, some fun pop culture stuff the following day. We really think Anderson will be one of the only shows in daytime that really covers a full spectrum of stories."

Cooper noted that he'll be taking cues from another silver-domed legend — Phil Donahue.

"Not just because he's another white-haired guy but I grew up watching Phil Donahue and certainly, like Oprah (Winfrey), he really forged a path and really created this format," he said.

"I think his whole interaction with the audience was really interesting and I don't really see other shows doing that anymore. But that's definitely something I plan on doing."

► "What I'm trying to do is just create my own show and create my own program and be authentic and be authentic to myself and make sure that the show is informative, is entertaining and there's value to it," says Anderson Cooper.

From Degrassi to dinosaur drama

► Rising star Landon Liboiron set to star in Terra Nova ► Show imagines what it would be like to travel back to a time when dinosaurs ruled

IAN
SCENE@METRONews.CA

For Landon Liboiron, getting into character on the big budget dinosaur drama Terra Nova was as simple as walking onto its impressive Australian set.

"I remember the first time the whole cast walked through the gates of Terra Nova. It was just massive," says Liboiron, who plays Josh Shannon, the eldest son of a family who finds a new life 85 million years in the past.

"We were just in stunned silent. The director said he wished he had the cameras rolling. No acting required."

Executively produced by Steven Spielberg, Terra Nova is the buzzed-about TV show of the new fall season.

It's a time travel tale about a dying future world where the air is toxic and children are severely restricted.

The Shannon family seeks a way out with a risky plan to travel through time — back to an unspoiled earth millions of years in the past.

"My character is the oldest brother and the only one really not excited about going back in time," says the Vancouver-based Liboiron, who is probably best known to younger Canadian viewers as Declan on Degrassi.

"He has a life and a girlfriend and is at an age when he's starting to turn into his own man. So he's against going to Terra Nova."

But though the world of Terra Nova is unspoiled, it's not free of danger — the biggest being the local dinosaurs.

Liboiron says he's having a ball getting back in touch with his childhood love for all things dino-related.

"When you're six or seven, dinosaurs are these crazy, cool things. But as you get older, they kind of

Seth Rogen takes over

GET READY TO GIGGLE. Fans of Canadian comic actor Seth Rogen will have a difficult choice to make Friday.

On the one hand, MuchMoreMusic is airing his 2007 breakout comedy Knocked Up, in which a hasty one-night stand extends another nine months — at least.

But then, Action is answering with his 2008 comedy Pineapple Express, in which a stoner who witnessed a murder goes on the lam with his dealer in tow (James Franco, Rogen's co-star on Freaky & Geeks, puts in a hilarious turn here).

Footballers have feelings

FREUDIAN HITS. The NFL season just started, but you don't need to be a gridiron junkie to dig Necessary Roughness, a breezy new drama that makes its Canadian premiere Friday.

The show centres on Rescue Me alumna Callie Thorne, who plays a divorced psychotherapist tasked with rehabbing a bad-boy pro football player (portrayed by Meekad Brooks of True Blood).

The show is inspired by a true story but doesn't share any DNA with the 1991 movie — so don't hold your breath for a Sinbad cameo. (W Network)

The old school Karate kid

WAX ON, WAX OFF.

Hollywood seems to be on an ongoing mission to remake every well-liked '80s hit, but Saturday a few of the originals are on offer.

YTV is airing 1984's The Karate Kid (released 14 years before future karate-chopper Jaden Smith was born) while radX will show the Cold War-era high-school thriller Red Dawn, which will get the 21st-century treatment later this year. Meanwhile, CHCH is airing 1983's Flashdance, which actually hasn't been remade — yet.

Something of a phenomenon

SCI-FI SHOWS. The sci-fi miniseries Torchwood: Miracle Day wraps its acclaimed 10-episode run Saturday, with the team travelling on a final desperate mission.

Fans of the show might feel equally desperate to see it end, but at least there's still more Doctor Who.

In tonight's episode, Amy is trapped in a facility that houses alien plague quarantine victims. (Space)

Hudson a 'brat': Dad

► Father has nasty words for actress Kate Hudson in his new book

Bill Hudson, Goldie Hawn's ex-husband and Kate Hudson's estranged father, has some stories to tell in his new book, 2 Versions: The Other Side of Fame and Family — and chances are Kate won't be too thrilled about them.

"She has done stuff which is just awful," Bill writes, according to Radar Online.

"She is a spoiled brat in my eyes."

His biggest gripe? That Kate hasn't been in touch with her grandmother, who is battling Alzheimer's.

"Kate doesn't have to talk to me and she doesn't have to give her a dime of her millions. All I want is for her to call and say, 'Hi grandma,' before it's too late," he writes.

From the Sky Down: U2 doc opens TIFF

From the Sky Down opened the Toronto International Film Festival Thursday night — the first time a documentary has done so. The doc, directed by Davis Guggenheim, captures the Irish rockers during what should have been a period of triumph following the release of 1987's worldwide smash The Joshua Tree. But as Guggenheim's film casts its lens back to that era — using a mix of fresh footage, new interviews and a wealth of archival clips — we learn that the band struggled to adapt to its rapidly expanding profile. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Gus Van Sant's Toronto

- The Oscar nominee and former Toronto resident returns to town with his latest, Restless
- Metro caught up with the festival favourite to find out what he likes best about Toronto

SCENE@METRONWS.CA

On Gus Van Sant's favourite TIFF memory:

I first went (to TIFF) with Drugstore Cowboy — I think that was the first time I went to Toronto.

I ran into Michael Moore, who had brought Roger and Me, and he came to our party, and I remember standing next to him up on this balcony, looking down into the crowd, wondering how many other filmmakers were present that you didn't know.

I hadn't seen his film and I didn't know him yet. I knew he was from Flint, Mich., and I knew it was a documentary about the automobile manufacturing business, but I just didn't project Michael Moore from that moment, and I wondered how many people were in the festival that were similar at the time — or were in that room.

On learning to love Toronto: Toronto is a huge festival. It's always been one of the biggest festivals and a great place to take your film.

I had been there with My Own Private Idaho, as well, and then we shot To Die For exclusively in Toronto, so I started living there and working there, and subsequently Good Will Hunting was shot there.

Finding Forrester — we shot half of it there. So all of a sudden it became a place that I lived and worked. It's a great place.

At TIFF

► Restless. Gus Van Sant's film Restless premiered Thursday. It is also being screened Friday at 4 p.m. at the TIFF Bell Lightbox.

► My Own Private Idaho. Van Sant and James Franco will speak at the TIFF Bell Lightbox about Memories of Idaho at 5 p.m. on Saturday.

On Canada:

Canada is sort of like America if things were cleaned up and made to work better — the economic structuring and priorities of Canadian economics and politics are seemingly more humane and on the right track.

It's a smaller place, so maybe it's easier, but it's kind of like America if it had grown a different way.

On this year's Fest:

When I'm working there, it's different because you're really living there.

With the festival, I'm imagining there will be parties and there usually are all these different openings. We'll be there the opening weekend. There's a few different events — I think I have a photo exhibit there with a re-cut version of My Own Private Idaho, by James Franco.

Partying with celebs: Crashing the velvet rope

Here's how to get into some of Toronto's most exclusive parties during this year's festival, where all the celebrities will be.

Getting past the velvet rope is all about attitude and look. Have a smart, classic outfit that befits a private event and avoid any overly formal styles that would stand out.

Stroll right up to the door with grace and confidently offer up your name if asked. A little charm and feigned confusion will disarm even the most determined party gate-keeper.

Festival forever linked to 9-11

► TIFF will commemorate the 10th anniversary of 9-11 with a short film preceding each screening on Sept. 11

For many in the movie business, the horrific events of Sept. 11, 2001 will forever be linked with the 26th Toronto International Film Festival.

It was 10 years ago that stunned filmmakers, celebrities and movie fans at the festival shifted their gaze from the big screen to TV sets positioned in the city's toniest hotel bars and lobbies, watching in horror as the U.S. terror attacks unfolded.

A dark pall immediately fell over what had been "a near perfect festival," director Piers Handling would later say, sending distraught visitors including Glenn Close, David Lynch, Mark Wahlberg, Benjamin Bratt, Gina Gershon and Juliette Lewis scrambling to find ways to return home to loved ones while bringing the movie marathon to a sudden halt.

► Piers Handling

"It was chaos," recalls Canadian director Carl Besai, who was at the festival with his film Lola. "In every hotel, every public gathering space, there was a TV and people were by the TV watching CNN or whatever news feed."

The devastating events shook scores of festival-goers, many of them U.S. filmmakers who lived in or had close ties to New York City, where 2,700 people died in the attacks on the World Trade Center.

Compounding their turmoil was the fact air travel was grounded indefinitely.

TIFF to Oscar

Crowds at the annual movie marathon seem to have a knack for picking out the next critical smash. For the past three years, films that have won the people's choice award at TIFF have gone on to become Academy Award best picture nominees: The King's Speech, Precious and Slumdog Millionaire.

Sure, they haven't all been renowned — anyone remember 2003's pick Zatoichi from Japan? — but a survey of past award-winners reveals a healthy list of enduring crowd-pleasers:

- 2007: Eastern Promises
- 2002: Whale Rider
- 2000: Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon
- 1999: American Beauty
- 1996: Shine

An Indian affair

► Dishes from India are all about spice ► As the seasons change, bring back the heat with this easy-to-make Grilled Tandoori Chicken

THE CANADIAN PRESS H/O

► The Tandoori Chicken serves four.

Last-minute guests? No need to fret.

These skewers taste amazing and require minimal work. Tandoori paste is available at most grocery stores, but in a pinch an Indian paste can be used.

The skewers are excellent served with basmati rice as well.

This recipe offers a contemporary take on Indian cooking by employing unlikely ingredients.

Grilled Tandoori Chicken

Preparation:

1 In bowl, whisk yogurt with tandoori paste and 15 ml (1 tbsp) lemon juice. Cut chicken into bite-size chunks; add to yogurt mix and stir. Refrigerate, stirring occasionally, for 30 mins or covered overnight.

2 Cut each peach into 4 wedges. In bowl, toss peaches, 5 ml (1 tsp) lemon juice, oil and 30 ml (2 tbsp) coriander.

Ingredients:

Grilled Tandoori Chicken

- 50 ml (1/4 cup) plain yogurt
- 20 ml (4 tsp) bottled tandoori paste
- 1 lemon
- 500 g (1 lb) boneless, skinless chicken breasts
- 3 firm but ripe peaches
- 5 ml (1 tsp) olive oil
- 45 ml (3 tbsp) finely chopped fresh coriander
- Salt, to taste
- 4 small naan bread
- Raita

3 Thread chicken onto 4 skewers; thread peaches onto 4 skewers. Sprinkle all with salt. Place chicken on greased grill over medium heat; grill, turning for 7 mins. Add peach skewers; grill until juices run clear when chicken is pierced and peaches are warm, 3 mins. During last min of cooking, grill naan.

4 To serve, top each naan with 1 peach skewer, 1 chicken skewer and dollop of raita. Sprinkle with remaining coriander. THE CANADIAN PRESS/FOODLAND ONTARIO

Historical day remembered

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA
TWITTER: @THEREALWINEGUY

I'm always amazed at how wine works its way into my life's most memorable moments. Sometimes, it's just part of the fun. Other times, it has a supporting role in the events.

Ten years ago this Sunday, I was at work. It was a Tuesday. I was having an average day. Mine just happened to involve tasting about 50 wines. A co-worker interrupted me to say a plane had crashed into the World Trade Center in New York. We turned on the TV in time to watch the second plane hit.

Of all the things I remember about that day, the fact that I was tasting Italian wine has never left me and I've uncorked a bottle from Italy to commemorate 9-11 every since.

This year, it will be the Rocca delle Macie 2007 Famiglia Zingarelli Chianti Classico ($18.95 - $21.98): A classically designed Tuscan red with a rich, full-bodied expression of cherry fruit and oak that's a fine partner for reflection. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS CANADA. Hey Meatball!

Chef Rodney Bowers' new meatball joint — yes, you read that right, and yes, you should be excited — did a soft pop-up launch this week at the resto's 719 College Street location. We've tasted some of the meatball sammies at different fests this summer, and we can't wait to grab a seat and chow down when they officially open next week.

Nikki Beach Toronto

From Sept 8-12, the Nikki Beach franchise will set up shop inside the TIFF Bell Lightbox. Expect a healthy dose of sophisticated European flare and style as the carpets and limos come out for Toronto's elite. We've got an eye on their upcoming Sunday Brunch. Mimosas, anyone? Find out more info at notable.ca/metro/september9.

An Evening For Sharks

Director Rob Stewart (Sharkwater) is hosting An Evening for Sharks on the 14th, a night to celebrate the launch of his NGO the United Conservationists, and raise awareness of the continued efforts in conserving the rapidly declining shark population. Expect some notable celebs to show up and have a fin-free evening at Ultra Supper Club.

TIFF at Hoxton

The buzz surrounding this new venue is so overwhelming that we expect their TIFF event to be nothing less than notable. With an extended last call you can count on this being a Friday night destination for TIFF party-goers that are actually still celebrating the festival. 69 Bathurst Street, south of King Street.

Diesel Presents Lupe Fiasco

Tomorrow night will see DJ Lupe Fiasco dropping beats with special guests Kardinal Offishall and Melanie Fiona (some TIFF starlets are rumoured to be hitting this party up, too) at the Kool Haus. In support of ONEXONE, get ready to tear it up on the floor in the name of charity.

The number ones of Niagara-on-the-Lake

PELLER ESTATES — 290 John St. E., Niagara-on-the-Lake; 888-673-5537

This has always been one of the most gorgeous settings in the region and chef Jason Parsons comes up with food that matches its surroundings.

RIVERBEND INN AND VINEYARD 16104 Niagara River Parkway, Niagara-on-the-Lake; 905-468-8866.

One of the region's smallest wineries is also the setting for one of its most luxurious inns and now — since chef William Brunyansky has taken up shop — some of the best dining as well.

ON THE TWENTY RESTAURANT — 3836 Main St., Jordan; 905-562-7313.

This was the first restaurant in the area to raise the dining bar and it still maintains a fine food tradition. Linked to the Cave Springs Winery, the restaurant always finds ways of introducing cuisine that is ace.

HILLEBRAND WINERY — 1249 Niagara Stone Rd., Niagara-on-the-Lake; 800-582-8412.

Another veteran of the wining-dining experience, Hillebrand has been on solid ground since Frank Dodd took over the kitchen five years ago. The seven-course tasting menu is a constantly changing delight.

TERROIR LA CACHETTE AT STREWN WINERY — 1339 Lakeshore Rd., Niagara-on-the-Lake; 905-468-1222.

Most chefs in the region favour local ingredients, but none does so with the passion or invention of Alain Levesque. Best of all, he brings a true provençal flair to the food of Ontario.

RAVINE VINEYARD ESTATE WINERY — 1366 York Rd., St. David's; 905-262-8463.

This is the new kid on the block, with a label that wine connoisseurs are already praising to the skies and an irresistible bistro menu. The atmosphere is casual, the grub very serious. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

KHL team will be rebuilt

- Russian league boss says team that lost 28 players in crash will play this season
- Other teams will supply players to Lokomotiv Yaroslavl, may pay their salaries

The Russian hockey team whose players were killed in a plane crash will be rebuilt in time to take part in this year's Kontinental Hockey League season, according to the league's leader.

All but one of the 28 Lokomotiv Yaroslavl players travelling to Belarus for their first game of the season were killed when their Yak-42 jet crashed on Wednesday.

KHL chief Alexander Medvedev said Thursday that each team in the league should volunteer up to three players each toward building a new Lokomotiv squad. He says it will free up between 40 and 45 players for Lokomotiv to pick.

"The 18 KHL clubs whose representatives I have managed to speak with have supported this proposal," Medvedev said in remarks to Atlant Mytishchi hockey club's press service.

Medvedev said up to 35 players have already put their names forward to join Lokomotiv, but he didn't specify any names.

He said one idea was for players' salaries to be underwritten by the teams from which they had been transferred to Lokomotiv for the duration of one season.

"This is still an unofficial decision, but it has been supported by everybody, and many are putting this idea forward themselves," Medvedev said.

Along with recruiting from other clubs, Medvedev said Lokomotiv will promote five players from its youth team.

The KHL is an international club league that features 24 teams from Russia, Belarus, Kazakhstan, Latvia and Slovakia.

Lokomotiv is a leading force in Russian hockey, winning the Russian League championship in 1997, 2002 and 2003. The team finished third in the KHL last season.

Roddick, Nadal, Murray move on

Even in Thursday's perfect weather, Andy Roddick ran into trouble completing a rain-delayed victory at the U.S. Open — this time, because of water seeping through a crack behind a baseline in the tournament's second-largest stadium.

At least he finally got to finish a 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 win over fifth-seeded David Ferrer, which Roddick celebrated by high-fiving spectators at cramped Court 13. Two days of wet weather gave way to sunshine, and defending champion Rafael Nadal and 2008 runner-up

Andy Murray managed to work their way into the quarter-finals, too, by wrapping up straight-set victories.

Because of rain earlier in the week, the tournament decided to push the men's final to Monday at 4 p.m.

PEYTON MANNING

Gone for season?

Peyton Manning underwent more neck surgery Thursday, the third time in 19 months, and will miss not only the opening game but possibly the entire season.

Losing Manning for any stretch of time is a huge blow to the Colts and throws the race for the AFC South wide open. The four-time NFL MVP hasn't missed a game in 14 NFL seasons, with 227 consecutive starts, including the post-season.

Three out of four ain't bad

► Arencibia, Romero help Jays take series against Sox

J.P. Arencibia hit a three-run homer and Ricky Romero pitched six effective innings as the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Boston Red Sox 7-4 on Thursday.

Romero (14-10) held Boston to five hits, three walks and three runs over 6½ innings while striking out seven.

Edwin Encarnacion and Eric Thames also hit solo home runs as the Blue Jays took three of four against a team that appears to be heading to a post-season spot, but is not playing up to expectations.

September call-up David Cooper had three hits, including two doubles, and two runs batted in.

Catcher Jason Varitek hit his 11th homer against Frank Francisco, who entered in the ninth to protect a four-run lead.

7	4
BLUE JAYS	RED SOX

An error by second baseman Kelly Johnson and Marco Scutaro's single gave the Red Sox hope with two out in the ninth. But Dustin Pedroia struck out.

Andrew Miller (6-3) allowed five runs and eight hits over five innings. Michael Bowden allowed Thames' homer in the seventh.

Romero entered the game with a 2-6 record and an 8.08 earned-runs average in his previous 11 career starts against Boston.

He breezed through his first six innings but had some trouble in the seventh as Boston scored three runs.

Varitek walked with one out, Darnell McDonald had a two-out infield hit and Jacoby Ellsbury drove in a run with a double. Casey Janssen replaced Romero and gave up Scutaro's two-run single, his 10th hit of the series.

Thames got one run back with his 10th homer in the seventh. Brett Lawrie of Langley, B.C., and Cooper hit consecutive one-out doubles in the eighth against Felix Doubront to bump the lead to four.

Arencibia's 22nd homer was the fourth hit in a row to start the second for the Blue Jays (72-72).

Blame shifts to Barker if Jyles is another lemon

CFL EXTRA POINTS

DAN TOTH
TORONTO@METRONEWS.CA

Whose tires will Jim Barker be pumping on TSN's dreadful behind-the-scenes

Argos show now that Toronto has punted quarterback Cleo Lemon?

Despite regularly flogging media and fans with the notion Lemon was evolving into a bona fide CFL starter, Barker's frustration finally matched the fans' desire to see a real prospect take over the offense.

Lemon wasn't terrible, but the pocket passer finally wore out his welcome after getting benched against B.C., despite completing 11 of 14 passes. Lemon's obvious displeasure with the decision, possibly magnified because of a bonus for games started, forced Barker to end this two-year experiment.

Argo hopes now rest with Steven Jyles, back from the nine-game injured list, who will work with a uninspiring receiving corps led by a past-his-prime Jermaine Cope-land.

If the 2-7 Argos continue sliding with Jyles in the starting role, Barker will be forced to explain how he's failed to develop a CFL quarterback in two seasons in Toronto.

Out with the new, in with the old in Regina:

You've got to give Grandpa Ken Miller some credit for pulling the Roughriders from their death bed after firing head coach Greg Marshall.

It's hard to imagine how the Roughies, lifeless through the first eight games, could be resuscitated for the Labour Day Classic. But their win over Winnipeg was nothing short of sensational and convinced many that the team will now make a serious run for a playoff spot, despite a 1-7 start.

Teams typically react with an emotional and inspiring performance when a coach is replaced, so this could be just a one-game apparition. But Miller does have a way of inspiring his troops that could have sustaining power. Next month the man turns 70 and the last thing his heart needs is the stress and strife of a coaching career. Don't jump ship on Alouettes just yet: The Hamilton Tiger-Cats' 41-point outburst against Montreal last weekend might signal changing tides in the East.

That said, the Alouettes were without four defensive starters, so the Tabbies should temper their enthusiasm. The Als entered the game missing Etienne Boulay, Mark Estelle, Shea Emry and Jerald Brown.

The second-place Ticats might be ready to challenge the Grey Cup champs in the East, but only playoff success in November will prove the Hamilton club is for real.

Our love was the most important thing in our lives. However, a cousin of mine that was in love with me and I didn't know, was trying to separate us by using tobaccos, cigarettes' ashes and praying with an African Witch doctor. JJ, I love u more & more everyday, u make me so happy. I'm blessed to be with u & be starting a family. We have our whole lives ahead of us & I couldn't imagine anyone else beside me. GRUMPY

Reggie, I Think Your Lovely ;) DONATELLA

Lucky 7, Hope they publish this so you can read it on the train. Have a happy swords day! HUNNIEBUNNIE

Dear Charles, It was awhile ago, but I was a fool that morning. To be honest, I was a little overwhelmed and not thinking. Two seconds after you left, the conversation caught up to me and I wanted you to come back so I could apologize. So if you can forgive my tactlessness, I would love to go out for some intelligent conversation with you. Regretfully, BOOKSTORE GAL

Today's horoscope

♈ Aries March 21-April 20 If you sit back and wait for good things to come your way, they will. Enjoy your good fortune. You deserve it.

♉ Taurus April 21-May 21 A friend will ask you for relationship advice. Make it clear your advice doesn't come with a guarantee.

♊ Gemini May 22-June 21 Honesty is essential if you are to resolve an issue that has been dragging on for weeks.

♋ Cancer June 22-July 22 Something will happen today that shakes your faith in your five senses. You have a sixth one, too.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 23 The Sun in Virgo will help you cash in on your insights and ingenuity today.

♍ Virgo Aug. 24-Sept. 22 Mercury moves back into your birth sign today, helping you to make sense of things that too often seem random or meaningless.

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23 Don't take it personally if a friend is critical today. He or she is most likely more annoyed with him or herself.

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22 You are desperate to do something more exciting, something that rises above the mundane.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21

Be more adventurous today and don't worry too much if you tread on toes — that's what toes are for.

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 20 What happens over the weekend will challenge you to up your game. You're a mover and shaker.

♒ Aquarius Jan. 21-Feb. 18 You will have to leave something behind over the next few days. It will soon be replaced, no worries.

♓ Pisces Feb. 19-March 20. You will be on the go from dawn to dusk today. This evening, you'll really speed up. SALLY BROMPTON
